

Water Utility Journal Launching Announcement

The European Water Resources Association (EWRA) was established in 1992 as an international, non-profit association aiming at enhancing cooperation and transfer of knowledge in the field of water resources.

The main aims of EWRA are to promote research and application of scientific knowledge to practical water related activities, to promote the exchange of scientific knowledge in the field of water resources between scientists and water professionals and to contribute to the dissemination of results of scientific, technical and practical advances in the field of water resources.

The Water Utilities Journal is launched by EWRA aiming at covering more practical aspects of the water sector. The Journal will present interesting solutions and practices to water utility problems, technological innovations and practical guidelines for enhancing the efficiency of water systems as well as good practices and success stories in the water utility sector.

The Journal will be published electronically, once a year, consisting of approximately 12 papers of about 10 pages each and will be available for downloading from the EWRA website.

Submitted papers will be reviewed by the following Editorial Board all world experts in the field of Water Utility management whose intimate knowledge of good utility practices as well as their proven passion for efficient and effective improvement of water utility performance will be of tremendous value to the success of the Journal:

- Bambos Charalambous - Cyprus
- Stuart Hamilton - England
- Sophie Kanellopoulou - Greece
- Vasile Ciomos - Romania
- Viktor Maslak - Ukraine
- Nicola Bazzuro - Italy
- Alex Rizzo - Malta
- Antonio Franco – Portugal
- William Muhairwe - Uganda

Bambos Charalambous is the coordinating editor of the Journal and interested authors should contact him for additional information or clarification. Guidelines for submission of papers are available from the EWRA website (www.ewra.net).

We look forward to hearing from you.
